

Ten commandments for STUDENTS

1. If you suspect coronavirus (Covid-19) disease - the most common symptoms are fever, tiredness, dry cough, joint and muscle pain - you must not go to school or the public! Stay at home and contact your doctor by telephone as soon as possible and follow his/her recommendations.
2. If your doctor decides that you need to undergo the Covid-19 test, you will be given an electronic coronavirus test request.
3. With a request from a doctor or a hygienic station, you can visit a testing center without booking, but it is recommended to check its current capacity and book a date before your visit.
4. You must not go to school or the public until the test result is announced, stay at home. If you live in dormitories, you will find all the information on how to proceed on the website: <https://accommodation.vse.cz/informations/suz-vse/protection-measures-coronavirus/>.
5. In case of a positive test, report this fact immediately at e-mail address karantena@vse.cz and also by email to your study assistant (program's coordinator). In the email please state your faculty, year, study program, beginning of disease and expected end of quarantine.
6. If possible, stay in touch with your teachers and arrange for alternative performance of your study obligations or, if needed, an online consultation. Teachers are ready to help you as much as possible to continue fulfilling your study obligations.
7. In case of worsening your health complications, contact your doctor immediately.
8. You can attend school again only after termination of your quarantine. The end of the quarantine must be confirmed by your doctor, whom you should contact before the expiration of your quarantine period.
9. If your health complications or other serious reasons do not allow you to fulfill your study obligations in a course for a longer time, arrange for a possible solution with your teacher or contact your study assistant (program's coordinator) by phone or email.
10. If you are ordered to quarantine by a hygienic station as part of tracing contacts with an infected person, follow the instructions of the hygienic station and your doctor, whom you should inform about the fact as soon as possible. Then, also in this case, proceed in accordance with points 5 to 9.

Always keep in mind that strict adherence to increased hygienic and all other valid preventive measures protects not only you, but also your surroundings and your loved ones!
